MOISSONNIER

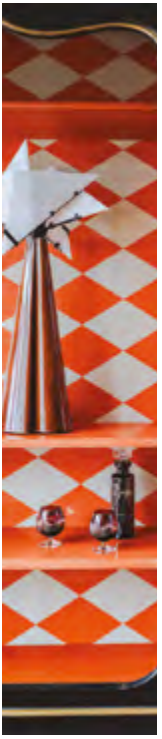

Heritage

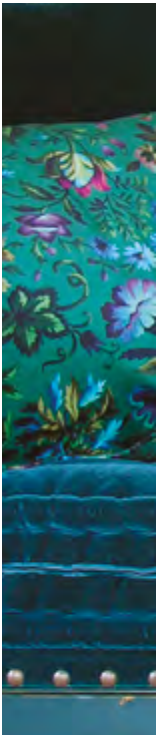

Since its creation in 1885, the name Moissonnier has been synonymous with fine cabinetmaking. The company cultivates and perpetuates expertise passed down from generation to generation. From the first steps taken by Émile Moissonnier in his workshop in Bourg-en-Bresse to those taken today by passionate craftsmen, almost nothing has changed.

An ardent defender of French excellence and art de vivre, Moissonnier continues to follow the guiding principle that has always been its own: to imagine and create high-quality pieces, respecting tradition while maintaining its freedom of expression in colors and patterns. It is this high standard and rigor, combined with boundless creativity, that are still recognized and sought after around the world today.

Collection

Two hundred. That is the number of models in the collection, which is regularly updated to meet new expectations and uses. While they cover all areas of the home, since 2023 they have also extended to the garden, with an outdoor furniture collection, designed by Pierre Gonalons.

With a wide range of lacquers, playing on increasingly surprising material effects and painted patterns, the company imagines each new finish as a parade of inspirations. The spirit of the times constantly infuses its creations, composing a score in which the forms of the past blossom in the present.

Haute Couture Cabinetmaking

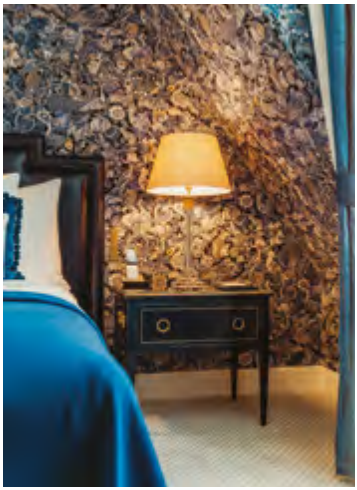

In keeping with the tradition of fine cabinetmaking and its unique craftsmanship, Moissonnier offers bespoke pieces and special orders.

To achieve this, the company relies on an in-house design studio, which acts as a bridge between international specifiers and the workshops.

THE FANTASY

Take a step back, give free rein to your fertile and creative imagination. This is the art of our imagination, expressed through exceptional pieces that each time challenge convention a little more. It's a chest of drawers that becomes a bar, a vanity unit, or a DJ's desk.

STYLE WOODWORK

Whether designing and crafting wood paneling, a walk-in wardrobe, a wall-to-wall bookcase, a kitchen or a bathroom, Moissonnier has teams capable of creating a wide variety of fittings, drawing on their specific areas of expertise.

Our only limit : the material

At Moissonnier, our research drives us to constantly push the boundaries of materials. It is the material that sets the limits, but it is also the material that we use to try to transcend them.

Our iconic Louis XV chest of drawers, in the style of B.V.R.B., lends itself to numerous experiments and remains a blank canvas on which the future can be written.
